DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 8, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Heilshov.

Heilshov discloses the same invention including a plate (24) having a blade slot to permit a blade to travel through (28), that the plate is insertable into a worktable of the saw (Fig. 1), that the plate has an upper and lower surface (Fig. 6), a blade support structure (32 both blocks) attached to the lower surface for limiting the longitudinal motion of the saw blade (Fig. 6 It is noted that any surface below the upper surface is a lower surface), that the blade support structure includes a stop block having a front face facing plane (edge facing the blade of block 32), that the front facing plane is positioned to make contact with the non-cutting edge of the blade (Fig. 5), that the stop block is a prism (32), that the stop block has a groove aligned with the blade (Fig. 5), that the blade has a cutting and non-cutting edge (Fig. 1), and that the stop block does not rotate when contacted with the non-cutting edge (32).

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 3724

3. Claims 4-7, 9, and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 23 June 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The stop block mechanism of Heilshov is capable of restricting longitudinal motion of the blade. The two stop blocks 32 are capable of pinching the blade between the two front facing surfaces, thereby preventing any longitudinal movement.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Tetzner and Prince et al.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
